

A close-up photograph of green leafy vegetables, likely a type of lettuce or spinach, with several clear water droplets resting on the leaves. The leaves are a vibrant green color and have a ruffled, curly texture. The background is dark, making the green leaves and the glistening water droplets stand out. A semi-transparent text box is overlaid on the upper left portion of the image.

Regentropfen
glitzern im Licht wie Diamanten
auf den Blättern des Grünkohls.